

Claims247 proof points and competitor differentiation

The 22 proof points below are ordered by likely customer value and relevance to conversion, not uniqueness. The ordering is a commercial judgement, not a measured conversion result.

Uniqueness measures visibility in the competitor pages reviewed: 1/5 = widely promoted; 2/5 = common; 3/5 = partly differentiated; 4/5 = rarely highlighted; 5/5 = no clear equivalent found. It does not establish exclusive capability.

Short proof points	Longer proof points	Rationale	Score /5
No excess to pay	On an eligible non-fault claim, we pursue the at-fault insurer not against your own policy, so you do not pay your policy excess.	An immediate, understandable financial benefit. Claimsline and Motor Accident Line already emphasise it, so it is essential rather than distinctive.	1/5
Like-for-like car, van or motorbike	Get a replacement suited to your everyday needs, even if your own insurance does not include replacement vehicle cover.	Connects the vehicle to family life, work and independence. All four competitors promote comparable replacement vehicles; Car Accident Line explicitly lists these vehicle types.	1/5
Protect your no claims discount	Your no claims discount took time to build. We pursue the at-fault insurer without making a claim under your own policy, helping protect it.	Direct and emotionally relevant. Prefer this to "Don't risk your no claims bonus discount", which combines two names for the same benefit and implies an unavoidable risk through other routes. Do not equate this with premium protection.	1/5
Nationwide recovery within 90 minutes.	Stranded after an accident? We aim to have recovery with you within 90 minutes. We confirm an estimated arrival time based on your location and availability. Need onward travel for you and your passengers? No problem.	A specific response target is more meaningful than "fast recovery". No equivalent recovery timeframe was found. Requires operational evidence; recovery arrival and replacement delivery must remain separate promises.	4/5
We deal with the at-fault insurer	You don't have to chase the other driver's insurer. Our team has decades of claims experience and working directly with insurers. We manage the claim and the conversations on your behalf, keeping you informed as it progresses.	Explains who Claims247 deals with and the burden removed from the customer. Stronger consumer language than "claim managed against". Common across this market.	1/5

Short proof points	Longer proof points	Rationale	Score /5
Recovery, replacement and repairs sorted	From recovering your damaged vehicle to arranging a like-for-like replacement vehicle and managing repairs, we coordinate the moving parts so you do not have to organise each service yourself.	Makes the full service understandable. "Sorted" carries the confident tone without saying the customer will never need to provide evidence or take further action.	1/5
Lifetime guarantee on eligible vehicle repairs	Eligible repair work comes with a lifetime guarantee. We arrange repairs through BS 10125-accredited repairers, with the cover and conditions explained before work begins.	A strong reassurance beyond generic repair quality. Car Accident Line mentions guarantees, but not lifetime cover. Confirm whose lifetime, the provider, covered work and exclusions before publication.	4/5
Onward travel for you and your passengers	We can arrange onward travel for you and your passengers to an agreed destination, including a replacement vehicle or taxi where available and appropriate.	Demonstrates people-first service through a practical action. No clear equivalent highlighted. Confirm passenger capacity, destinations, accessibility arrangements and any limits.	5/5
Nothing to pay upfront	You do not need to pay for any eligible recovery, replacement vehicle hire or repairs upfront. We explain the arrangements, your responsibilities and how we work before you agree.	Addresses immediate affordability without implying that credit hire carries no responsibilities or possible liability. Funding benefits are widely promoted by competitors.	1/5
We challenge unfair write-off valuations	If your vehicle is written off and the insurer's offer does not reflect its value, we challenge it using evidence about its specification, condition and comparable vehicles.	Uses your preferred direct angle while showing what "fight your corner" actually means. More specific than general settlement support. Do not promise a higher offer in every case.	4/5
We don't take a cut of your vehicle settlement	We do not deduct a percentage fee from your vehicle damage settlement. It's all yours! We have nothing to hide, ask us anything or find out more by phone or email.	Removes uncertainty about deductions without promising recovery of "100% of what you're owed". No equivalent vehicle-specific message found, but that does not mean competitors take a cut. Check all applicable agreements.	4/5
Updates your way: WhatsApp, email or phone	Choose how we keep in touch. Whether you prefer a WhatsApp message, an email you can read later or a phone conversation, we use the channel that works for you.	Specific, human and easy to picture. A clear choice of these three channels was not highlighted by the competitors reviewed. Confirm the preference can be honoured consistently.	5/5

Short proof points	Longer proof points	Rationale	Score /5
Your dedicated UK claims handler	Have a main point of contact who knows your claim, answers your questions and coordinates the next steps, supported by our UK claims team.	Retains personal accountability without promising that the same person answers every call. Claimsline and Motor Accident Line already promote dedicated handlers.	2/5
On average we answer the phone within 1 minute.	Call and speak to a member of our team without waiting in a queue during our opening hours. Unlike your insurer, we won't keep you waiting.	Preserves your intended USP rather than replacing it with generic UK-team wording. Hold from publication unless call routing, staffing and records substantiate it. Competitors already sell short waits, so speed itself is not unique.	3/5
We fight your corner when fault is disputed	If the other insurer disputes who caused the accident, we bring together the available evidence, such as photographs, dashcam footage and witness accounts, and challenge their position where justified.	Turns brand attitude into a concrete service. NAH already explains evidence gathering and disputed liability, so the capability is not exclusive.	2/5
We pursue losses your insurance doesn't cover	The costs can go beyond vehicle damage. We help identify and pursue eligible losses such as accident-related travel expenses, lost earnings and damaged belongings, even where your own policy does not cover them.	Brings uninsured loss recovery to life. Wider losses appear in competitor messaging, particularly NAH's. Evidence may include receipts, payslips, employer confirmation and proof that the loss resulted from the accident.	2/5
Damaged tools, car seats and belongings included	Tell us what else was damaged. We can seek recovery for eligible items such as work tools, child car seats, phones and luggage—not just the vehicle itself.	Specific examples make the wider service more memorable, particularly for families and tradespeople. Check ownership, damage, value and replacement evidence. Leave out £100,000 until its contractual meaning is established.	4/5
Repairable? We arrange the repairs	If your vehicle can be repaired, we arrange the assessment and repair work and coordinate with the repairer, keeping you informed along the way.	Positive, plain English and directly answers a common question. Useful on a repair page or service card; it overlaps with the full-service proof point, so avoid displaying both together unnecessarily.	1/5
New parts. Repairs to BS 10125 standards.	We arrange repairs using new parts through repairers working to BS 10125, so you know the quality of the repair matters as much as getting you moving again.	Strong reassurance, but Claimsline and Car Accident Line already promote parts quality. Verify the repairer's certification and parts policy separately; use "genuine manufacturer parts" only where that is actually guaranteed.	2/5

Short proof points	Longer proof points	Rationale	Score /5
Medical and legal support arranged	If you are injured, we can arrange access to appropriate medical treatment and specialist legal support, with the services and any fees explained before you proceed.	Connects support to the person's recovery without implying Claims247 itself provides treatment or legal advice. Competitors already promote injury and legal support.	1/5
Claim back personalised plate transfer costs	If the accident means paying to retain or transfer your personalised registration, we can include eligible costs in the claim against the at-fault insurer.	Corrects the earlier angle: you pursue the expense, not perform the transfer. No equivalent highlighted. "Costs covered" would imply guaranteed reimbursement; keep receipts and confirm recoverability.	5/5
Written off with finance or GAP? Know who to contact.	We explain which documents from your vehicle claim you may need when contacting your finance provider or existing GAP insurer. They confirm your balance, cover and next steps.	Avoids implying payment assistance, debt advice or guaranteed GAP cover. A useful supporting FAQ rather than a main conversion benefit. Keep the actual service within its agreed regulatory scope.	5/5

Sources

<https://www.claimsline.com/accident-management-services>

<https://www.claimsline.com/accident-recovery>

<https://www.claimsline.com/vehicle-replacement>

<https://www.claimsline.com/vehicle-repair>

<https://www.motoraccidentline.co.uk/>

<https://www.national-accident-helpline.co.uk/road-traffic-accident-claims/car-accident-claims>

<https://www.car-accident-line.uk/>

https://www.asa.org.uk/type/non_broadcast/code_section/03.html